Team pursuit. I love the team environment and the process of working together to then put it all together and then play a role within that team

"Olympic gold medal at Paris 2024 is the proudest moment of my career so far"

Oliver Bleddyn has emerged as one of Australia's leading endurance track cyclists, progressing through the junior ranks to become a key member of the national team.

Bleddyn built a strong foundation through national and continental competition:

- Multiple Oceania champion in team pursuit
- Two-time elite national champion

He made his UCI Track World Championships debut in 2023, delivering strong performances in both individual and team pursuit events.

In 2024, Bleddyn reached the pinnacle of sport at the 2024 Paris Olympic Games:

- Gold medal – Team pursuit

Racing alongside Sam Welsford, Kelland O'Brien, and Conor Leahy, Bleddyn contributed to:

- A world record performance
- Australia's first Olympic title in the event since Athens 2004

Bleddyn's rapid progression and Olympic success have cemented his place at the forefront of Australia's world-leading endurance program.

representing Australia means

It is a huge honour as I grew up watching all the older generation racing in Australian kit representing the country. To now be in that position is a great privilege

what a successful commonwealth games would like for me

Performing to the best of my ability in front of my friends and family & sharing that moment with them
