

sophie edwards

track

date of birth 25/02/00 age 26 state SA hometown Adelaide club Norwood CC

coffee order

Small cappuccino

idol

Lotte Kopecky

sports I follow and who

Adelaide Crows (AFL), Adelaide United (A-Leagues)

go-to comfort movie

Not a movie but I'll often pick a random episode of Friends when I'm looking for something to watch!

favourite food

Haigh's chocolate freckles

favourite event to race

Team pursuit - the buzz and feeling when everyone is riding in sync is pretty cool

" We currently hold the Commonwealth Games record in the team pursuit - so would be great to go even faster!

Sophie Edwards has established herself as a key member of Australia's endurance cycling program, achieving success domestically and internationally on the track.

Edwards has built a strong track career from junior level through to the elite stage:

- Bronze medal at the 2018 UCI Junior Track World Championships individual pursuit
- Gold medal – Team pursuit at the 2022 Commonwealth Games
- Six-time elite national champion across the omnium, individual pursuit and team pursuit
- Represented Australia – Women's team pursuit at the Paris 2024 Olympic Games

Alongside her track success, Edwards has delivered strong results on the road:

- Winner of the 2023 Oceania Road Race Championship
- Winner of the Warrnambool Women's Classic proudest moment of my career so far

The last Commonwealth Games- winning gold and breaking the Games record twice!

what successful commonwealth games would look like for me

It's not often we get to represent Australia, even less at a major Games so it is an incredibly special opportunity. It makes me so proud and gives me a lift every time I pull on the green and gold

" I'm a medical student, I enjoy baking sweet treats & getting coffee with friends